September 26th 2013:TBDA Builds Awareness about National Tick-Borne Disease Epidemic with TBDA President Staci Grodin - John Donnally Embarks on National Bike Tour to Fight Tick-Borne Diseases

Stacy discusses how The Tick-Borne Disease Alliance has launched Bite Back for a Cure, a new national grassroots campaign to build support in the fight against tick-borne diseases. The CDC recently reported that Lyme disease affects 300,000 victims each year, a rate 10 times higher than previously reported. Tick-borne diseases pose a national health crisis. TBDA is dedicated to raising awareness about these diseases and the very easy ways we can all protect ourselves. John talks about how The Tick-Borne Disease Alliance and 24-year-old have joined forces to launch Bite Back for a Cure, a c

John Donnally

Born and raised in Madison, N.J., John Donnally attended the Morristown-Beard School from 2004-2008 where he competed in hockey, soccer and lacrosse. John first began suffering from Lyme-related symptoms in the fifth grade but did not gain an official diagnosis until 2003. Throughout high school John was healthy and only experienced mild lingering symptoms. As captain of his lacrosse team, John was named first team all-conference and first team all-county. He continued his talents at Colgate University, but during this time, he also began to experience new and intensified symptoms, including cascading floaters in vision, neck pain, joint pain and tendonitis. In 2011, John tested positive
