November 04th 2013:Using Market Cycles to improve your Investment Performance; The Revolution in Electric Cars

Tune in
Monday at 12 Noon Pacific Time on VoiceAmerica Business Channel

There are up and down cycles that drives the investment markets, but most investors don't understand them. David Gurwitz, Managing director of Charles Nenner Research, explains what these cycles are and how to ride them to your advantage as an investor. In the second half hour, Michael Farkas, CEO of the Car Charging Group, explains the latest trends in the electric car and hybrid market. You might think that electric cars and plug-in hybrids are just a small niche in the automobile market, but they are not. He explains what you should look for when buying an electric car, what investment oppo

David Gurwitz

David Gurwitz serves as the Managing Director of Charles Nenner Research. He is responsible for working directly with clients to assess the markets, and he works hand in hand with Charles. "Charles does not shy away from taking a leadership position, even if it is contrary to the conventional wisdom in the market" says David. "His job is to use the power of cycles to look at the past to predict what is coming, in order to better help our clients adjust to and plan for these very challenging times." David is a J.D., MBA and CPA. He graduated from Brandeis University before getting his MBA from NYU. David worked in merchant banking just prior to joining the company. Like Charles, David shar
