January 13th 2014: Government Spying and Genetic Information Privacy

Micheal Vonn, a lawyer and the Policy Director of the British Columbia Civil Liberties Association, <http://bccla.org/>, talks about her choice of civil liberties and human rights for her career. She explains the liberties and rights declared for Canada and for the USA. She discusses circumstances in which loss of privacy of genetic information would undermine the human rights and civil liberties of an individual and the individual's descendants, parents, siblings and genetic relatives, and the circumstances that loss of privacy could become government spying or prying. She highlights the ways i
