We all know effective communication is essential for successful relationships in business and at home. Then, why is communicating so difficult? Do you know why this is a problem for many people? We are never formally taught the critical communication skills required for successful relationships. As we go through life, we pick up many communicating habits and some of them don't serve us well. As adults, we arrive at the workplace and in relationships ill-prepared to handle the inevitable differences of opinions and conflicts that arise. What's the solution? My guest, Meredith Bell, co-founder
