April 10th 2014: Welcome to Autism America 1 in 68 children Diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder, ASD

On March 30, the CDC released its latest report on autism rates in 11 states in the U.S. The data shows a disturbing 30% increase in ASD over the data reported in 2010. Although the CDC acknowledges ASD is on the rise, they claim to be stymied as to why while lamely citing increased 'awareness' and 'misdiagnosis'. Earlier this year, biochemist Dr. Brian Hooker created a firestorm when he revealed he obtained sensitive CDC documents through Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests. His analysis shows statistically significant risks of autism associated with the vaccine preservative Thime
