May 20th 2014: What The Animals Have To Say

Animals may not communicate with you in your spoken language, but if you are willing to listen, they have a lot to say. What contribution can animals be to you that you have not yet been open to receiving? What wisdom and contribution can they add to your life? If you've been cutting yourself off from animals, you've been cutting yourself off from more than you imagined. Would you like a fuller and richer life? Join Suzy Godsey, the amazing animal whisperer, as a special guest on our show, for an exploration of this often overlooked subject.
