May 02nd 2014: Holonomics: A Holistic View of Our Economy with Simon and Maria Moraes Robinson

Would you like to engage in a new mental operating system that allows you to make sense and truly comprehend the complex problems and issues you face today? In their groundbreaking book, Holonomics: Business Where People and Planet Matter, Simon and Maria describe our economy as more than the sum of its parts – it's actually a system of interacting parts. This requires us to move beyond our rational-logical way of seeing. To understand the whole system, we must leverage our subtle perceptions and intuition to reveal the underlying qualities and values that fuel the system. These qualities an
