May 27th 2014: What Does Watson, Cancer, Survival, and Transformation have in Common? Steve Harvey

What is next for the fight against cancer? IBM believes Watson is. In March 2014, IBM and the NY Genome Center announced a joint collaboration to apply the computing power of Watson to revolutionize genomics. Together they will transform patient treatment options starting with attacking brain cancer. IBM's World Wide Leader for Technology and Analytics and spokesperson for this initiative, Steve Harvey, joins Kimberly Stewart host of Stepping Stones to Everyday Success on Tuesday, May 27 at 6 PM ET (3PM) Pacific time. Tune in to hear how IBM, Watson, and the New York Genome Center are taking
