Paula will be interviewing Kristen Eykel. We will be discussing the modality of Long Distance Reiki. This is a very powerful healing method that can be used for many purposes. It is universal energy. You may understand how physically touching someone may offer comfort, but how about sending them this energy from the other side of the country? The other side of the world? How can we wrap our heads around the thought that we can actually send them focused, healing energy to another time? In this episode, we explore this idea and experience from the perspective of Distant healing with Reiki-the s
