

Indiana Jones: Myth, Reality and 21st Century Archaeology

Archives Available

March 04th 2015: Archaeology and Development: the Mounds State Park Reservoir

Mounds State Park Anderson, IN has nine to twelve unique earthworks, (ceremonial mounds) built by the prehistoric Adena culture and also used centuries later by the Hopewell culture. Some of the mounds are believed to be more than 2,000 years old. A truly impressive site of (literally) monumental North American prehistory. Recently, the Anderson/Madison County Corporation for Economic Development has proposed the construction of a $450 million reservoir that will dam the White River. The dam may pose a serious erosion threat, but it may also create a new habitat for a local endangered specie

Read more

SHARE DOWNLOAD PDF GET CODE

Tune in

Archives Available on VoiceAmerica Variety Channel

EPISODE ON DEMAND
VIEW HOST PAGE

Featured Guests

Beth McCord

Ms. Beth McCord is an archaeologist with over 20 years of Midwestern archaeological experience. She is currently the Indiana Branch Manager for Gray & Pape, Inc., national consulting firm specializing in cultural resources management. She received an MA in Anthropology from Ball State University. During her career, Ms. McCord has received many federal and state grants, authored published articles and technical reports and presented her research to a variety of audiences. One of her research interests are Middle Woodland earthworks and she has conducted research of the Anderson Mounds for over a decade. She is a member and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Indiana Archaeology

Read more

Dr. Christopher Moore

Dr. Moore received his PhD in anthropology from the University of Kentucky in 2011, where he studied the organization of production of the stone and bone tool technologies of the Kentucky Green River Archaic. During this time he began investigations into the location of the Spanish mission on Sapelo Island, Georgia, with Dr. Richard Jefferies. Dr. Moore has published in several peer-reviewed journals, including World Archaeology, Journal of Social Archaeology, Southeastern Archaeology, North American Archaeologist, and the Midcontinental Journal of Archaeology. He is qualified as a Principal Investigator in the State of Indiana and works closely with archaeologists from the Indiana State M

Read more

Share This Episode

Share On Facebook Share On Twitter Share On LinkedIn

Connect with VoiceAmerica

Download our mobile apps

Available on the App Store Get it on Google play Download for kindle g+ f t in RSS

 PressPass
ALL ACCESS. ALL THE TIME.
Come See what the VoiceAmerica hosts are writing on PRESSPASS