February 05th 2015: Analysis of the President's FY 2016 Budget Proposal

President Obama officially released his FY 2016 Budget of the US Government on Monday, February 2. As in years past, Squire Patton Boggs has released its analysis of the President's proposal (click here for a copy), and this week's Capital Thinking will be devoted to analyzing some key sections of the proposed budget. Host Kevin O'Neill will first be joined by David Schnittger with an overview of the key areas of the proposal and share his views on the potential for Administration and Congressional cooperation on funding the federal government. Next, former Secretary of Transportation Rodney S

Rodney E. Slater

Former US Secretary of Transportation Rodney E. Slater helps clients integrate their interests in the overall vision for the transportation system of the 21st Century—a vision he set as transportation secretary to promote a safer, more efficient, environmentally sound and sustainable worldwide transportation infrastructure. Mr. Slater also helps state and local government clients address the vexing challenge of closing the gap between transportation demand and capacity by employing public/private strategies and innovative financing solutions. Mr. Slater's practice focuses on many of the policy and transportation objectives that were set under his leadership, including aviation competition
