April 16th 2015: Second Guessing

We are all encouraged to never give up and strive to achieve our dreams, no matter how unbelievable they may seem. We are never taught how to prepare ourselves for the moment when that dream finally comes to a screeching halt. Former UCLA standout running back and nine year NFL veteran Maurice Jones-Drew, describes the factors that contributed the most difficult decision of a professional athletes has to make. He also tells us his top five running backs in this upcoming draft, along with why the Oakland Raiders could be the comeback team in 2015. ESPN.com writer and contributor Scoop Jackson r

Maurice Jones-Drew

Jones-Drew attended the high school football powerhouse De La Salle, where he never lost a single game during his 3-year varsity career. During his junior season, Jones-Drew rushed for nearly 2,000 yards, averaged nearly 12 yards per carry, and scored 26 touchdowns. He was rated as a four-star recruit and ranked as the No. 1 all-purpose back in the nation in 2003. Despite his small stature, Jones-Drew proved that his pass catching ability and big playmaking skills were enough to led the Bruins in rushing for three straight seasons. Jones-Drew set UCLA's all-time record for yards rushing in a single game with 322 and five touchdowns (school-record). With his size coming into question again
