August 05th 2015: Changing The Game

With only two shows left, John O'Sullivan from Changing the Game Project returns for one last visit. Over the last year and a half, I have had the honor to meet people that are making a difference in the world, and the work that John is doing to educate and help parents and coaches of young athletes needs to be known. He is creating a movement to give youth sports back to the kids in a day when youth sports has become BIG BUSINESS. And, John is being echoed by professionals such as John Smoltz in his MLB Hall of Fame induction speech. We will discuss John's latest blog, 3 Myths that are Des

John O'Sullivan

John O'Sullivan is the Founder of the Changing the Game Project, an initiative to educate parents, coaches and athletes about the positive benefits of youth athletics, and the need to remove adult priorities and values from our children's sports. He is the author of the national bestselling book Changing the Game: The Parents Guide to Raising Happy, High-Performing Athletes and Giving Youth Sports Back to Our Kids, and his writing has been featured by the Huffington Post, Soccer America Magazine, and The Soccer Wire. He travels and speaks internationally to schools and youth sports organizations about developing more competitive, high-achieving athletes by building "player-first" environmen
