September 15th 2015: Risk and Finance: 1 plus 1 equals 3

The buzz: Better together. The Insurance industry appears to be at a tipping point, on the verge of exciting and massive growth. But this requires historically independent Risk and Finance professionals to leave their silos and collaborate. According to a 2014 IDC white paper commissioned by SAP, an integrated risk-finance profile can facilitate improved financial forecasting; enhance timeliness, accuracy and completeness of information to gain a 360-view for better decision making; and enable faster response to evolving regulatory mandates. But is it realistic? The experts speak. Daniel H
