Katherine Flannery Dering talks about her life, career, and experience as elder sister of her brother, Paul, as he lived with schizophrenia. She explains her book 'Shot In The Head', <http://www.shotintheheadbook.com/>. She describes his false memories and how she came to recognize these. She highlights the challenges that false memories created for him in his interactions with his present and past realities and the challenges these created for the family as a whole. She explains how her book is her very own memoir, and how this and her family's memoirs and memories may have helped them all in
