Moir's Environmental Dialogues
Thursdays at 12 Noon Pacific
February 18th 2016: Encore: Child Honoring, an All Inclusive Culture of Respect for People, Wildlife and Environments

In 1979 Raffi was kissed by a beluga whale. In that gentle gesture Raffi knew that for people to save wildlife or cleanup degraded environments there must be love for the other. Raffi's Baby Beluga and Down by the Bay are songs cherished by families whose children are now adults continuing on. Raffi's original philosophy of Child Honouring: How to Turn This World Around has become, more than a book, a covenant of nine principles: Respectful Love, Diversity, Caring Community, Conscious Parenting, Emotional Intelligence, Nonviolence, Safe Environments, Sustainability, & Ethical Commerce. Raffi t

Featured Guest

Raffi Cavoukian

Raffi Cavoukian, known to millions as Raffi, is a renowned songwriter ("Tweet Me Right") and Founder of Child Honouring (<http://childhonouring.org>). A recipient of the Order of Canada and the United Nations' Earth Achievement Award, Raffi has honorary degrees from UVIC and UBC. A generation saw him perform Down by the Bay and Baby Beluga. Now adults, "Beluga grads," tell him that they are raising their children with his music. Raffi is a passionate advocate for a child's right to healthy environments. He has become a "global troubadour", lecturing and networking to help create a viable future: a restorative, child-friendly world for us and for those t
