

Family Caregivers Unite!
Archives Available
March 1st 2016: Gene Editing for Individuals and their Families and Family Caregivers

Dr. Marcy Darnovsky is Executive Director of the Center for Genetics and Society, <http://www.geneticsandsociety.org/>. She describes her career and the Center's work. She explains human gene editing, the ways it could be used for medical treatment and research, and the pros and cons. She explains germline gene modification and the Center's position on its benefits and risks. She highlights policies on human germline modification in influential countries and identifies the main differences. She explains why the prospect of human germline modification is so controversial. She says how well she th

Read more

Tune in

Archives Available on VoiceAmerica Variety Channel

Featured Guest

Dr. Marcy Darnovsky

Dr. Marcy Darnovsky is Executive Director of the Center for Genetics and Society, in the US. She holds a PhD from the University of California, Santa Cruz. She communicates widely on the politics of human biotechnology, focusing on the implications for social justice and public interest. She's written for The Nation, Democracy, Harvard Law and Policy Review, and many other publications.

Read more

Share This Episode

Connect with VoiceAmerica

Download our mobile apps

Read what our hosts are writing about.

