PI's Declassified! Thursday at 9 AM Pacific

June 23rd 2016: Encore: Inside the Mind of an Investigative Journalist

Award winning correspondent, Diane Dimond, always has a story in the wind. And she loves to work with private investigators who often have the inside scoop both on the front lines as well as behind the scenes. What is it like to cover the headline making crime stories of the day, every day? How does a lifetime of covering crime impact the journalists who cover it? How does an intense news-breaking story as big and as shocking as the Michael Jackson or Jerry Sandusky cases impact the life of an investigative journalist? Diane Dimond knows and is willing to talk about it! Diane promises to be e

Diane Dimond

A breaking crime story often finds Diane Dimond's thoughtful commentary on CNN, Fox News, MSNBC, or Court TV. At the center of countless major news stories during her award winning career, Diane may be best known for first exposing the child molestation charges against Michael Jackson. She was the first to report on the rape at the Kennedy compound in Palm Beach, FL & to identify William Kennedy Smith as the accused. She is known for her hard-hitting interviews with prison inmates including James Earl Ray, the assassin of Martin Luther King Jr. & is the only reporter to have ever interviewed Richard Allen Davis, the killer of Polly Klass. Besides being a Special Correspondent for Newsweek/T
