February 24th 2017: Cell phones: A Health Risk?

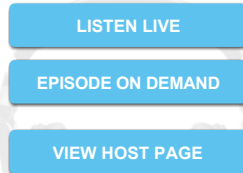

Does cell phone radiation cause a health risk? The answer is "yes" according to Devra Davis, PhD, MPH. Cell phone radiation has been classified as a possible class II carcinogen by the World Health Organization. Studies have shown a probable causal effect of electromagnetic fields on causing brain tumours such as glioblastoma and acoustic neuromas. Cell phones have also been associated with fertility problems and certain breast cancers. The Italian Supreme Court has determined that Innocente Marcolini's brain tumour was caused by his use of cell phones. Swiss farmers swear that t
