February 02nd 2017: The 'Miracle on the Hudson' as told by the last passenger off the back of the plane

When US Airways Flight 1549, or the "Miracle on the Hudson," ditched into the Hudson River on January 15, 2009, Dave Sanderson knew he was exactly where he was supposed to be. The last passenger off the back of the plane on that fateful day, he was largely responsible for the well-being and safety of others, risking his own life in frigid water to help other passengers off the plane. Despite the hazards to himself, Sanderson thought only of helping others and emerged from the wreckage with a mission to encourage others to do the right thing. Today, he travels the globe sharing his inspiratio

Dave Sanderson: The Passenger's Passenger. On January 15, 2009, Dave was the last passenger off the plane that crashed into the Hudson River, best known as "The Miracle on the Hudson" and was largely responsible for making sure so many others made it out safely. This event became a widely popular movie, Sully, directed by Clint Eastwood and starring Tom Hanks. In addition to speaking and training, Dave conducts workshops, is a much sought-after podcast celebrity and recently released his book titled "Moments Matter", in which he discusses how resourcefulness was the key factor in turning a potential tragedy into a miracle. He shares the 12 resources he and others employed
