I help businesses get more clients. Most people want more phone calls or more booked appointments. But I also help with getting more traffic to your website, to buy something or to grow an email list. Just having a website is not enough. A website needs to have the elements inside that google is looking for, it needs to be connected to google to help ranking in the search results, and Social Media needs to help promote your website. I have been in the computer field for 38 years. I worked at American Express for 28 years where I was software engineer and architect. I created and maintained software for mainframe computers, servers, and desktop PCs. I also worked on AmericanExpress.co
